We would like to thank Olivia Kotarba who created the cover for this year's yearbook. The handcrafted word-cloud in the shape of our school's dining chair-back represents the ideals held by our community. In these chairs our students share mealtime, memories and the values that make Ashbury a place to call home. This picture was taken as a tribute and good-bye for Mr. Matthews of the whole student and staff community.

Chapel

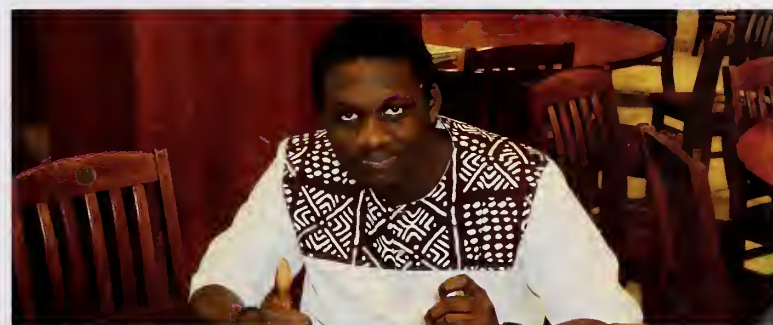

This year the Chapel Committee had a wonderful time working with our Chaplain, The Reverend Beth Bretzlaff. Personally, I was delighted to chair this committee as it gave me and many others the opportunity to grow spiritually. As a committee we would get together once a month and discuss material related to the spiritual side of student daily life, be it a student presentation in the chapel or just something on one's mind. Here at Ashbury we truly are blessed to have such a superb Chaplain and strong spiritual pillar. Best of luck to the graduating class of 2013! Kyle Pedersen, Prefect

International Excellence

Community

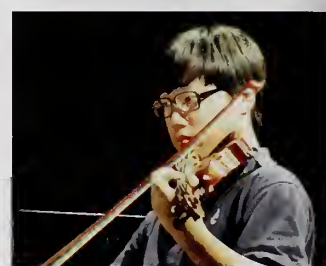

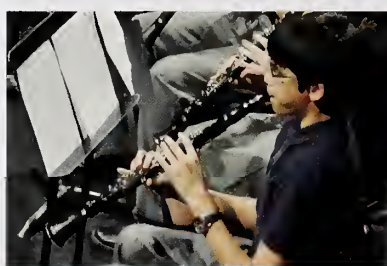

Many of our Community Service activities this year were student-initiated and incredibly successful, demonstrating our passion for contributing to both local and global communities. From a book drive collecting over 1000 books donated to the Ottawa Library, to the 30 Hour Famine which raised awareness about world hunger and united our students, to various service trips and individual volunteering, Ashbury is characterized by our love and commitment to giving back. In the first term, Monte Carlo Night raised over $10,000 to be donated to the Boys and Girls Club of Ottawa in the form of valuable technology and equipment. The Ottawa Mission benefited from funds raised during the second term. Ashbury intensely values donating concretely, as shown by the amazing number of backpacks and hampers filled at Christmas for youth-at-risk and their families. Thank you, Ashburians, for your generosity! Katie Gwozdecky, Prefect

Juvie

On December 7th and 8th Theatre Ashbury presented JUVIE by Jerome McDonough to almost sold out houses. The story focused on 13 juvenile delinquents awaiting trial for their accused crimes, set entirely over 1 night in a jail cell. The production had been in rehearsal since September and the cast and crew of 20 were extremely excited to show their work to the Ashbury community. The audience response was very supportive and vocal and the cast received standing ovations each night. We look forward to adding a third night in our run for next year's production. The production was a total success and the cast and crew worked with great diligence and energy. Secret word...juvie!

HEADMASTER

Mr. Tam Matthews

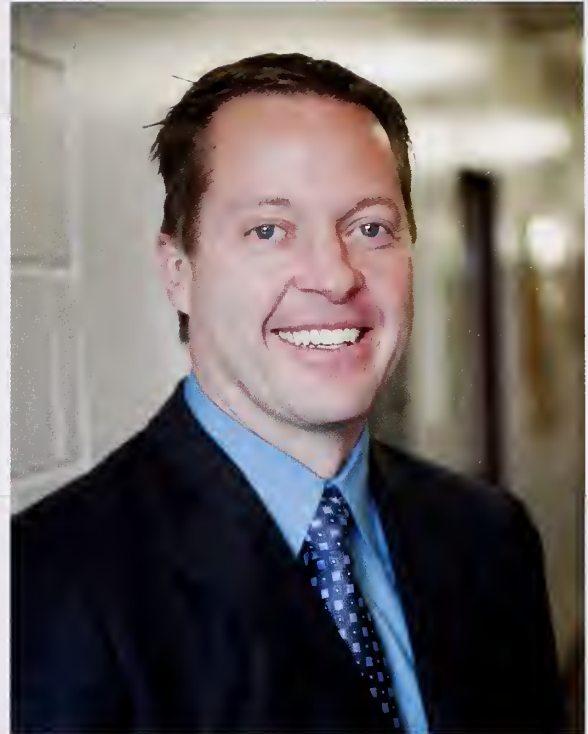

Opening the 200 pages of our Ashburian yearbook is like opening a very special birthday, holiday or celebratory gift with great anticipation of what photos, grad quotes, student work and articles were selected for publication. This 2012-13 yearbook is timeless and will be pulled from shelves and shared around the world for the next 100 years! In short, the yearbook is a keepsake of a special age and time for 680 students from 40 countries and 125 teachers and staff committed to giving every student the education and experience of a lifetime. We thank our creative yearbook editors Eva Bruketa and Lauren Benson-Armer and staff advisors Cindy Rust, Daniel Reid, Ingrid Boyd and Sarah-Jane Harriz together with all the yearbook team for their efforts to record and celebrate the 2012-13 school year. This was one of the most successful and spirited years in our 121 year history. House competitions, air bands, House skits, dances, homecoming, Spirit Week and Spring Time Fun Time were all well supported. Nick Lupul, School Captain, with Prefects, House Council and Junior School House Captains delivered memorable Monday assemblies, Wonderful Wednesdays and two all-school gatherings in the gym and on the fields. The grad class demonstrated their creativity, innovation and, most important, respect with the Matthews Motors grad prank filling the school reception and Maclaren Hall with cars and motorcycles. The grad gift of bleachers to support school spirit for fans at games and a University Education Fund for Vaughn Rawes demonstrate their spirit, caring and generosity. Thank you! It has been an honour to serve as Headmaster for 13 years and we have accomplished much together. Most important to me has been caring for the well-being of the entire Ashbury family and nurturing the close relationships between students and teachers building on trust and respect. My vision has been for a student-centred school with inspiring facilities, a challenging curriculum and extensive co-curricular opportunities for all students to find passion and purpose. We strive to be an open, inclusive school to celebrate diversity and internationalism with 40 countries represented. Ashbury is a private school with a public purpose and we all commit to make a difference in the world and serve others. I recall the Chapel Talk about the Dalai Lama's 18 Rules for Living which, together with this yearbook should bring joy, laughter and warm feelings of pride and gratitude to all. This year we say thank you to some special retiring and departing teachers: Patty Carleton (24 years), Laura McNairn (18 years) and Romain Décotte and Reverend Beth Bretzlaff. Their talents and legacy at Ashbury will be remembered by students, colleagues and alumni for years to come. Jan Matthews and I thank you for your kindness, friendship and for enriching our lives with your stories of success, challenge and inspiration. We wish Ashbury fair winds and smooth sailing for all in the future.

HEAD OF SENIOR SCHOOL

Mr. Gary Godkin

It is hard to believe just how quickly this year has gone by. I spent much of August 2012 preparing for and thinking about my role as Head of Senior School. I have to admit, much of the year ran on the 'just-in-time' approach to operations management as everything was new to me. Every independent school has its own way of operating and I have enjoyed learning about and experiencing the many traditions that Ashbury has to offer. One new practice that I am particularly proud of and hope will become a tradition is joint Senior School/Junior School assemblies. We are one school and I believe that it is critically important to continue this practice in the future. Senior School students have the important task of role modelling for their younger schoolmates. I would love to see mentors from the Senior School helping with Junior School athletics, drama, debating and tutoring, and just having fun acting as big brothers and sisters. I would like to wish all of this year's graduates the best of luck with their studies next year. I have enjoyed getting to know you and I wish that I had more time to get to know you even better. Please do stop by and say hello whenever you are back in Ottawa. I would appreciate hearing how your school year is going and receiving your views on where you feel you were well prepared and what areas we should focus on for improvement. As we say good-bye to Mr. Matthews and hello to Mr. Southward, we are welcoming in an exciting new era for Ashbury. As well, a year from now we will have a beautiful new building added to our campus. I am looking forward to the many changes and challenges that lie ahead and to working with all of you to make Ashbury even better.

ASSISTANT HEADMASTER ACADEMICS

Mr. Malcolm Mousseau

David Wilson's Formula for Success

In 1989, as a young Ashbury College Junior School/ Senior School French teacher, I heard an inspiring message that our Director of Studies offered to the students as they prepared for their June examinations. David Wilson, who taught physics, said: "Here is the formula for success: you set your goals and like the train conductor, you work, you work, and you don't stop until you have reached the very end ". In my opinion, this message continues to resonate through the Ashbury hallways today. I admire the hard work and perseverance that many students, supported by their teacher-mentors and their parents, have demonstrated through these amazing 2012-2013 accomplishments: - William Richardson was the top eleventh-grade debater and public speaker in the world- Alex Cohen, national champion in high school extemporaneous speaking- Jonathan Kamel, second best high school persuasive speaker in Canada- Bessie Zhang logged well over 1000 community service hours!- Mitch Kurylowicz, grade 10, founded Project Jenga and fundraised over $200,000 to build a school for boys in Kenya- Nick Lupul, who showed us all how many different ways one can say "good morning", achieved his goal of finishing his first marathon; - Katie Gwozdecky, Eva Bruketa, Yakin Ebsim, Sara Eldanasory, Hannah Haslam, Yan Duan, Mia Li, Katherine Roberts, Amy Zhou and Xin Zhang formed our first ever Ashbury girls' competitive robotics club- The Ashbury SMART Team (Andrew Burwash, Alessandro Eid-Ricci, Bessie Zhang), wrote an abstract in the field of biochemistry and molecular biology that sufficiently impressed a panel of university professors that they were invited to present their paper in Boston- Sean Carere, Alessandra Youth and Tony Li: three grade 9 students who finished top 25% in the national grade 10 science contest- Alana Bobra, 15 years old, was one of 16 Canada-wide winners of the Eco Art Photography contest, where participants ranged from 15-24 years old. Well done, Ashburians, and enjoy your well-deserved summer holidays!

School Captain Nicholas Lupul

Dairy Queen is my place to visit when I need a moment of clarity. The last time I went, I ordered my usual banana split, sat at my favourite table and used the time to ponder life in general. I noticed their slogan "good isn't good enough" and I began to explore the parallels to my life at Ashbury. It occurred to me (if not Forrest Gump) that life is like a Dairy Queen Sundae. When you begin eating, it seems like it is going to last forever. There can be frustrating moments, such as a brainfreeze or melting ice cream, but for the most part it is thoroughly enjoyable. Somewhat disappointing is the fact that, before you know it, it is finished. This year at Ashbury, our Monday mornings were great, our Wednesdays were wonderful, we always stayed spirited, and always had positive weeks. But somewhat disappointingly, before we knew it, it was all finished. So, back to my banana split and my thoughts about good not being good enough. Immediately, the Prefect team of 2012-2013 came to mind. This year the school moved in a new direction without a Student Council. This system saw the Prefects meet at TAG each day and take on the former responsibilities of the Student Council. These responsibilities totalled 105 meetings and a whole lot of activities to run during the year. Some of these activities were short and sweet, with the likes of Crêpefest, the Cake Auction, Town Hall, and Movember. Others were much more challenging but satisfying, such as planning Spirit Week and reviving the Winter Carnival, coordinating a school-wide Springtime Funtime, and overcoming scheduling conflicts for the October Dance. If this year's team had settled for good, that would not have been good enough. Not to be deterred, the Prefects rose to the occasions and took on every new challenge with zest and enthusiasm. They would go to any length to please those whom they were serving, with each event similar to making an ice cream Sundae. Some "Sundaes" turned out perfectly while others melted and spilled onto the floor. Facing that kind of adversity brought out the most impressive quality of this group, their commitment. Day after day, for 105 meetings, they came back with renewed energy, having learned how to make our Sundaes even better the next time around. Sometimes this meant adding extra toppings, akin to asking for help from the IT Department, Maintenance, Teachers, and Administration, without which the preparation of our Sundaes would have been impossible. Occasionally, this meant extra time to prepare those Sundaes. Other times, this meant keeping things just the way they were. Even when the Sundaes melted and spilled, this year's team was always there to clean it up and learn what to do better. Although good, even Dairy Queen is not good enough to match that kind of commitment. Now, as I savour my last mouthful, I feel content but a little disappointed at how quickly my proverbial banana split disappeared. Extremely content and grateful for the experience but left wondering when I will have the opportunity to enjoy another as sweet.

High school, it's tough. What it really taught me is to believe in myself and to push myself further to my maximum potential. On the way, I learned how to respect and discipline myself along with how to control a whole new set of responsibilities. At some moments, I felt as if the entire weight of the world was on my shoulders, but then I came to realize that we are all in this together. At the end, I discovered how to trust myself and I saw a whole new different person, a person who is ready to take on what the future holds.

These past 4 years of my life have been unforgettable. I have spent 6 years here. Despite ups and downs, I can easily say that these have been the best years of my life. To all those who caused the ups and ended the downs, thank you. To end - a deep quote. "There is so much sugar in this Fruitopia © ." (Connor C.) Bye for now.

Thank you to my teachers, friends, and family who have supported me through the years. I leave high school full of fond memories and this wouldn't have been possible without great people around me. This part of our lives has come to an end...apparently its now time to face the 'real world' or something weird like that. I'll see you on the other side my friends, "live long and prosper" (Spock).

It's been good. I've had an amazing time for the past 6 years at Ashbury and high school wouldn't have been the same if I wasn't here. Thanks to everyone that has impacted my experience here in any way. There's nothing I'd change about my experience here except the work (so clever) but along with the work there's been more good times than bad, even the caf food wasn't all that bad. Couldn't have asked for a better place to spend these 6 years. Pce Ashbury and goodluck to anybody out there.

Irving Casabon-Sosa

Six years at Ashbury and it has been quite an emotional rollercoaster, through the combination of stressful and fun times. The ups and the downs are what made it an amazing experience. From the awesome times on the rugby pitch to the not so exciting times in the classroom, it has all been great. Mom and Dad thank you for feeding me and being there for me, Mr. Beltran thank you for helping me become a better rugby player and Argentina was awesome! As for my friends, it has been terrific to share the Ashbury experiences with all of you and I hope that we all keep in touch. Shout out to EB and to all the teachers that have helped me with my academics during my time at Ashbury.

Abigail Chan

Thank you for four great high school years Ashbury! Best of luck to the Swim Team and New House! "Jour après jour, on voit combien tout est éphémère... Alors vivons pendant qu'on peut encore le faire" (Corneille). (Day after day, we realize that everything is ephemeral... so let's live it up.)

Years at Ashbury taught me a lot. Without the experience here I don't become such an independent and strong girl. And I wanna thank my friends, Hilary, Marie, Jennifer, who are always so supportive and caring, and thanks to Mr. Doleman always encourages me with my art, I couldn't make it without her support, and a special thanks to Mr. I, who opened the door of arts for me. I am going to graduate from here, but the memories will never die. Thanks to all who helped me, understood me and cared me once.

Five years ago, if you had told me that in Grade 12 I'd be in a bunch of clubs, wear a red prefect blazer and hold down a decent average, I'd have laughed you out of the room. But it happened—and I'm thankful. Gratitude to my friends and teachers, especially those who endured my assembly announcements. I owe Ashbury a lot. For something I didn't really want to start, it's sad to see it end.

So many thank yous! Becks, Ma, Tiny, Jac: you're amazing. My crazy friends: I love you—thanks for the fortunes! M,D,W,D thank you for putting up with my many freakouts/constant singing. Love you. Having two families can be pretty confusing, but you've all made it so easy. AK, I'll always be glad I asked you where Spanish was- I love you. CS, you're the sister I spent years wanting to have. See you in The Fax! JN, thank you for the real talk and the long letters- I'll keep an eye out for Rob. SA, many meals, many laughs, many chats and a bit too much sushi. High School is nothing like in the movies. Entering grade 9 I presumed that I'd have multiple intensely choreographed dances where I played the role of Gabriella, and my love interest, Troy. A beautiful swish haired boy hasn't yet serenaded me, nor have I been adopted by the most supreme and popular girl whom I overthrow her to become myself the most popular like in Mean Girls. Life at Ashbury has been a series of wake-up calls. If you wanna be somebody, and if you wanna go somewhere, you better wake-up and pay attention. Among other things, I enjoyed catching myself casually humming or belting tunes from Anything Goes at the oddest times of day. T'was a good laugh. I've learned, among other things, that I am unique, just like everyone else. I truly appreciate those who have made me smile over the past three years. If everything must go, then go.

It has been an incredible journey full of twists, turns, ups and downs on this rollercoaster known as high school. Friends have been made and friends have been lost; good times have been had and mistakes have been made. Overall, this marks the closing of a significant chapter in life and the beginning of one that is equally important. Good luck to all the grads of 2013!

"Others have seen what is and asked why. I have seen what could be and asked why not." (Picasso) I am so grateful for my time at Ashbury and appreciate the support of the teachers and parents. Part of me wishes I could stay longer, but the privilege of being here nonetheless puts a smile on my face.

Manveen Virdee

In my two years at Ashbury, I've learned a couple of things: grades aren't everything, getting involved in school activities will make you a happier person, and you need to make time for yourself. I can confidently assert that these past two years have been the most stressful of my life, but they have also been the most fun, eventful and memorable years as well.

Kevin Vuckovic

6 years later, and wow has the time ever flown by. I had a great time, with friends, teachers and coaches (you know who you are) thanks for making the time here enjoyable. Looking back, all was good, keep your heads up when things get tough and stay focused. Work hard, play hard... that's what gets you through this school.

Grace Wahome

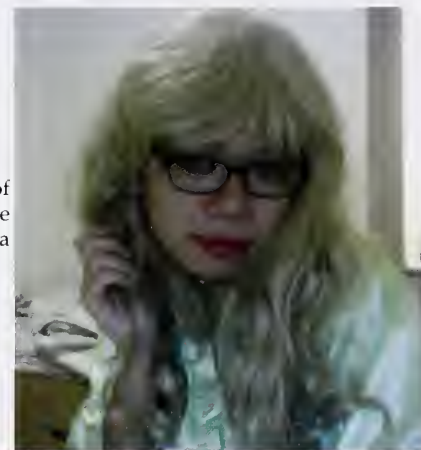

I would like to thank God for hearing my prayers, my parents for the great experience at Ashbury and for the encouragement to reach my full potential. For Auntie Daphne for all the support you gave me and for always being there for me, I am very thankful God bless you. Sister, we are now college girls! WOOP WOOP! To my girls, I am thankful for your loyalty, wild times, fun times, sad times, and in general for being great friends. From lunch in MacLaren to weekends, I'll miss our laughs and conversations. Lots of love. Special thanks to Mr. Lamont, Ms. Dolman, Ms. Noonan and to my gr. 11 and 12 teachers for all the positive encouragement. Mme. Mitra, Ms. L, and residential staff, I will miss boarding, it has been a remarkable experience thanks to the warmth, friendly and fun environment that you created for us. God Bless. "Nothing is impossible, the word itself says I'm possible!" (Audrey Hepburn)

Not gonna go into that cliché of 'thank you's. Gotta hate those freaking goodbyes. Time to get outta here Frankolita, peace.

My eight years at Ashbury seem to have flown by in an instant. Big thanks to all my friends, teachers, parents, and everyone who supported me along the way; I wouldn't have made it without you. Best of luck to the rest of the grads of 2013, and to everyone at Ashbury. Thanks for the memories. "Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened." (Dr. Seuss)

Justin Yan

9 years. Wow. Lifers-the 10 of us left-congrats for making it through. It's been a really, really long time but in the end, I wouldn't trade it for the world. 4B to GA3. How do you sum up 9 years in such a small box of words? I'm gonna try. Being the tiny kid in the junior school, Japan, France, music, musicals, art, awards, and everything in between. Mom & Dad: thank you for everything. Grads '13, good luck! (9. Whole. Years. It was worth the wait.)

Melissa Yelle

4 years, and so many memories. We short people have a great perspective on life; we are always looking up. I will never forget all the good times with the most amazing friends. Come visit me and my dolphins!

Jennifer Young

I thought time had no limits but it did speed up, yet not at school, however I realized I was wrong. Can't believe three years just passed by in a wink of my eye. Tons of precious memories: having fun with friends in boarding and school, suffering from IB, being gated/receiving demerits because of missing sign in, room-cleaness, gossiping with roomies after curfew (in boarding), participating in fun curriculums and competitions etc. that I experienced at Ashbury have fulfilled my life. Huge thanks to all of my teachers, friends, who have been supporting me. I will carry these fabulous memories with me and continue my life journey. Farewell Ashbury! ^0^

Chanelle Zaphiropoulos

There are certain times in a person's life when clichés seem to be all that fit. With that in mind, I'll do my best to try and be original. I won't say that it's been a long time coming, (which it has) or that perseverance pays off in the end (because it does). Instead I'll simply say Thank You to Ashbury for letting me finish off the high school experience here, and Good Luck to the everyone sticking around! The Grad's have faith in you, because we survived!

Olivia Zed

Four years, so many memories, 0 jokes. Hating RPPS, trembs, PC, IB travelz, blyth, RS2011, and other international affairs. Boys-no hard feelings. Col & Li- BE GOOD or be good at it. Wow, time flies... Mom, Dad, thanks for everything. To my teachers, from singing Disney in class to climbing trees outside, I couldn't ask for better. And to everyone I've been with these four years, it's been amazing, and you're all amazing. I wouldn't change a thing. There's too many of you to squeeze in here, but you know who you are. Best of luck guys. Let us stay young, forever and always.

Time to move on...

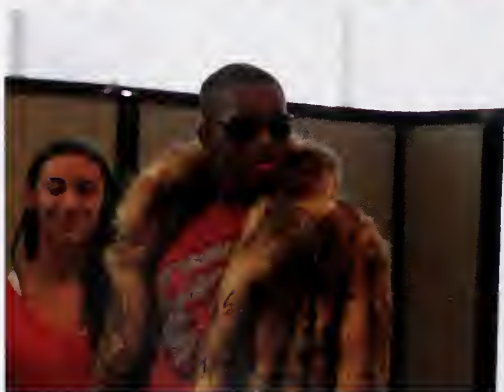

Eric Znotins

As the years go by the people will remain. I want to thank you all for making High School so much fun. All of the names before me in this book have helped to make me into the person I am today. Mom, Dad thanks for everything. It's been fun growing up with you. Nothing I can really say at this point. Thanks to all the teachers and coaches who helped me along the way. You taught me about more than school. Everyone have a great time next year. EZ

This season the Ashbury Senior Colts lead by captains: Arthur Pidgeon, Daniel Weinstein, Alex Carr, Kyle O'Hara, Kai MacLean-Hoedeman, and Liam Timmins finished the regular season with a record of 2 and 3. This record allowed the Senior Team to finish 4th in the CISAA league and receive a birth in the play-offs for the first time since joining the CISAA league. The Senior Colts faced the defending Champions St. Andrews College in the first round of the play-offs and despite an excellent effort by the team fell short of a victory.

This edition of the Senior Football team was comprised of a dynamic offensive group with multiple deep threat weapons, complemented by a fast, athletic and hard-hitting defense. The team was lead by a solid group of captains and all the players showed great commitment and dedication throughout the season. The players should be commended for their efforts and for continuing the great tradition of Senior Football at Ashbury. All returning players look forward to building on the strong foundation left by an excellent group of graduating athletes. See you on the field.

This season the Ashbury Junior Colts lead by captains: Jake Hamm, Sascha Jammes, Kyler Wong, Riley Taggart, Kyle Charron finished the regular season with record of 5 and 1. This record allowed the Junior Team to finish 1st in the CISAA league. The Junior Colts matched up against rival St. Michael's College in the final and were victorious in very hard fought game. The Junior Colts displayed tremendous teamwork and were crowned Champions of the Canadian Independent School Junior Football League for the second year in a row. This victory allowed the team to represent the CISAA league in the Junior provincial championships. In the first round of provincial play-offs the Junior Colts defeated a very aggressive Centennial team from Bellville. This victory gave the team a birth in the provincial semi-finals in which they faced a very talented Pickering side. Despite an outstanding effort by all players the Junior Colts fell short of making it into the provincial finals.

This edition of the Junior Football team was comprised of a tough and rugged offensive group complemented by a fast and hard-hitting defense. The team which was made up of player's grade 8, 9 and 10 age was lead by a solid group of captains and all the players showed great commitment and dedication throughout the season. The players should be commended for their efforts and for continuing the great tradition of Junior Football at Ashbury. The team looks forward to defending its championship next season. See you on the field.

The Girls Field Hockey Team comprised of many new faces this year including our exchange student, Miki Deavin, from Tasmania and our first time goalie Gillian LaFrance. The girls had the opportunity to participate again in both the KCVI - Tournament in Kingston and the AKPRO School Girls Classic Tournament in Mississauga. After a busy game schedule, with 6 games spread over just 3 weeks, the East Division League games ended in a coin toss for 2nd place standing and a 3-1-2 record. The team advanced to the quarter finals winning 3-2 to Nepean HS (last year's defending champions) and advanced again to the semi-final match. The semi-final brought the Ashbury team vs. our long time competition, John McCrae again this year. The game was intense with equal possession throughout, but unfortunately we were defeated 4-1 keeping us ranked in the top 4 teams in the city. Coaches Munro Collins, Godkin and Lane are very proud of the team and their accomplishments. Congratulations to all the players on a fantastic season as we bid farewell to our Grade 12 players: Micaela Dixon, Isabel Kerrebijn, Quincy Korte-King, Maddie Monaghan (capt.) and Danielle Poleski (capt.).

Varsity Girls' Basketball

Back row: Coach Johannesen, Kate Dossetor, Emma Donnelly, Sarah Smith, Selena Saikaley, Sam Burcenan, Mackenzie Thomas, Jonta Kamara, Rich Gomme

The Varsity Girls Basketball team was comprised of players from grades 9-12. The team played in the OFSAA division which is the most competitive in the city. As well, the team participated in 3 tournaments over the course of the season. Despite being the smallest school in the division, Ashbury competed hard which resulted in some close results. Our league play was highlighted by a few victories against AA teams. In the playoffs, Ashbury traveled to Lindsay ON to play St. Thomas Aquinas in the OFSAA qualifier and won that game. The team then moved on to the provincial OFSAA championships in Pain Court ON. Ashbury represented Ottawa with great sportsmanship, hard work and competitive spirit. Graduating players include: Sam Buchanan, Suzanne Geerts, Emily Montgomery. Returning players include: Selena Saikaley, Priya Muradia, Emma Donnelly, Kate Dossetor, Michelle Rhodes, Sarah Smith, Jonta Kamara, Mackenzie Thomas, Tate Eckford-Vea.

Senior Boys' Soccer

Although we had only a handful of returning players, the team was strong in all positions. This depth was demonstrated throughout the season, namely at our CAIS tournament at Ridley College. We lost our first game and tied our second, which put us in a tough position. However, through the cold, the team picked itself up and went undefeated for the rest of the tournament, reaching the Div. II finals against Saltus Grammar School from Bermuda. Many starters had injuries, which tested the skill, determination, and the versatility of the players. We conceded a goal early in the match but quickly responded with a goal of our own. It went on for ninety long minutes in which miraculous saves were made, more injuries occurred, which lead to position changes, and we had some wonderful chances at goal. We even put in one of our goalies as an offensive player to have fresh legs on the field. The match finally went to penalty shootouts. After 9 shooters, the winning goal was scored by Milan Stanivukovic. After this, the team brought back the gold medal they had promised themselves. The weekend finally brought the team together, however an unexpected switch to the AA division in the league meant that we needed to win or tie against Louis-Riel with only a day's rest after CAIS. This match proved how tough the boys were, because they did not give up despite injuries and fatigue. The team did not qualify for OFSAA but they had grown to play together in a formation that worked for them. Hopefully this growth will continue and lead them to a double championship next year.

Junior Boys' Soccer

Back Row: Paul Rodrigues, Jorge Ibarra Palomera, Omar Alami, David Rhodes, Spencer Griffin, Jonathan McFaul, Matthew Kourlas, Adam Groper
er, Coach C. Richard.

The Junior Boys Soccer team had a very enjoyable and successful season this year. The team should be very proud of their accomplishments as they finished the regular season with a very impressive 5-1 record, which included a 4-3 win over power house and perennial city champions Louis Riel. They finished first in the East division and had the lowest goals against in the East. Unfortunately, the post season ended far too early with a disappointing 2-1 loss to Glebe in the quarter-finals. Coaches Lamont and Richard are very proud of the contributions made by each player, as this was a very dynamic and collaborative team that truly worked well together. Many late season injuries led to players switching positions and adapting to change. This was managed by strong on field leadership and a motivated bench. Congratulations boys on a great season! This will be a group of boys to watch as they build Ashbury's soccer program in the coming years. The coaches would also like to thank Mr. Sikorski and all the parents and students (the team's 12th man) for all their support.

In its third season, the Competitive Swim team got into the water in the second week of September. Over the next 13 weeks the team trained three times a week and hosted a successful and fun mini-meet at the Gloucester pool. All swimmers raced well and we had high hopes going into the City Championships at the Nepean Sportsplex. On that day, the Ashbury team performed incredibly well. There were too many superb results to mention, but here are a few. John Martin successfully defended the 50 m breast stroke for Novice Boys - the third year in a row an Ashbury swimmer has won this race. Salma also had a very productive day, swimming in and winning four gold medals in the Novice Girls category. A major highlight for the swimming team was that Ashbury College won 12 different relays. It was a true team effort and as a result, Ashbury claimed the city championship for 2012. The second part of the season was getting our 20 OFSAA-qualified swimmers back in the water. Preparation was solid and we went to Toronto with high hopes. Once again the team performed admirably. Highlights included Melis Kirikoglu taking a silver medal in the Senior Girls 50 m butterfly and two Senior Girls relays also claiming silver medals (the teams were comprised of Melis, Allison Bui, Casey Cooper and Mikela Govig). Another highlight was an incredible 56 s 100 m freestyle swam by Alex Auster in leading off the Competitive Boys 4 x 100 m freestyle relay. But once again, all swimmers swam hard in the relays and did very well. The team results were superb - Senior Girls 2nd overall (out of 49 teams); Senior Boys (Marius Begaud, Berk Kirikoglu, Vlad Larin, Nikolay Ogarkov and Charles St. Louis) 11th (out of 44 teams); Open Girls (Abigail Chan, Claudia Cinotti, Gabriella Holthausen, Rebecca Godin and Alexandria Nguyen) 18th overall (out of 58 teams); Open Boys (Alex Auster, Chris Drake, Stephen Frodsham, Nick Lupul and Ethan Le) 7th (out of 60 teams) with the Ashbury College Swimming team coming 9th overall at OFSAA! A big thank you to our awesome parent volunteer/co-coach, Marci Groper. And thanks to the 12 graduating swimmers for helping make this season the best, so far... (Coach Kellar and Coach McKirdy)

The Cross-Country Running team had a short but eventful season. We participated in the Alumni Run and The Color Vibe Run before racing at the City Championships. Fewer meets than normal as fewer schools entered but that didn't affect our team which grew in size. The future looks promising for the Ashbury runners. We will certainly miss Kyle Pederson and Jessica Broomfield who are graduating this year.

Tennis

The Ashbury Competitive Tennis Team had another successful season this year, winning 1 gold, 2 silver and 2 bronze at the City Championships. The B Division won bronze in the Mixed Doubles category, and gold in Boys Doubles. The A Division won bronze in the Mixed Doubles category as well, and silver in both Boys Doubles and Boys Singles. Alexander Wong, Mark Tyhurst and Konner Fung Kee Fung also qualified for OFSAA for a second year in a row!

Ultimate Frisbee

The Ashbury Ultimate Team started off their second season with great enthusiasm and continued to grow in numbers from our modest beginnings last year. Our new grade 9 and 10 players (Sofia Jorge, Elisabeth Hadjis, Chris Scherlowski, Sarah Paradiso, Joshua Haebe, Matthew Hovey, Samuel Scrivens, Emiliano Alvarez, Sophie Lemieux, and Benjamin Fong) proved to be a valuable edition to the team with some great disc handling and speedy running. The veterans from Grade 11 and 12 (Brendan Lucas, Nour Gouhar, Ziming Jia, Jacob Zhang, Carson Fung, Jacky Pan, Salikh Tursunov, Finn Lao, Will McNeice, and Alina Kuhlen) kept up the intensity and brought everyone together to play as a team. The highlight of our season was an Ottawa High School tournament, where we played against some high caliber and experienced teams. We had a few wins and a few losses, but fully enjoyed the day at the Ultimate Park in Manotick. Our friendliest and closest game was against Lisards from Lisgar, and we played them again at their home field at a later date to easily take the win. The team plans to return in the spring, and play at St. Pete's tournament again where we took the championship last year in the B division coming in as a rookie team. Congratulations to everyone on a great season!

Ian Wilson, Colin Malone, Tommy Von Finckestein and Nikhil Dilawri.
Absent: Alexa Naccarato, and Julia Malone.

The Ashbury College Golf team had a very successful season this year. The East Ottawa tournament was held at the Meadows Golf Club and the boys team consisting of Ian Wilson, Colin Malone, Tommy von Finckestein and Nikhil Dilawri won the Boys East title with the lowest total team score. Julia Malone and Alexa Naccarato were runners up and silver medalist in the Girls East division. Individually, Ian Wilson had the best round of all of the boys and was the top male golfer, while Julia Malone was runner up in the girls division. All players qualified for the City Championship tournament and at that tournament Julia Malone was one of the top girls and qualified for OFSAA. Congratulations on a fine season.

Absent: Sydney Maxwell.

The Senior Girl's Volleyball Team competed in Tier 1 this year, finishing with a 4-6 record. With very diverse skills and a season faced with obstacles, we were playing good games and the girls showed great sportsmanship. The girls fought hard in every game, even taking the top team in our division to 5 sets, and we were competitive in the De La Salle tournament. We are looking forward to take what we've learned this year to become even stronger next year. We wish all the best to our three graduating players: Natasha Molnar, Dominique Szpilfogel and Polina Pyatakhina.

Junior Girls' Volleyball

Back Row: Janna Gohar, Iris Liu, Jonta Kamara, Michelle Rhodes, Alyssa Satterthwaite, Mackenzie Thomas, Justine Jammes, Coach Mousseau

The most evident characteristic of this year's Junior Girls Volleyball Team was its wonderful sense of fun and good humour. The experience we gained in the two tournaments we played (at St Pat's and finalists at St Francis Xavier) helped consolidate our team cohesion. As a result, we finished our regular season in first place (Tier 2 East Division). We look forward to seeing our grade 9 players return next year (Janna Gohar, Jonta Kamara, Jasmine Mussani and Mackenzie Thomas) and we would like to say a warm thank you to our graduating players: captain Bianca Acland, Justine Jammes, Sofia Jorge, Iris Liu, Montse Palacios, Sarah Peters, Michelle Rhodes, Hanna Sanders and Alyssa Satterthwaite. Well done!

Junior Boys' Volleyball

The Junior boys' volleyball team had another successful season. These 9 athletes worked very hard and improved their skills greatly over the season; they won the consolation finals at the St. Francis Xavier tournament, obtained 2nd place at the Holy Trinity Tournament, and won silver at the city championship. This team has a lot of character, commitment and dedication to achievement. A specific incident that demonstrates this is when the boys were losing 17 to 24, they fought for every point and won that match 26 to 24. These boys learned the importance of personal growth and how each member of a team needs to focus on themselves as well as the team to have success. It was sad to see the season end and with it say goodbye to: Tommy Friedlich, Sascha Jammes, Stephen Scharfe, Lucas Bruketa, and Thomas Robinson, all the best next year. There will be another great season, next year, with our grade nines: Adam Groper, Leslie Tom, Anthony Cui, and Jeffrey Yateman.

The 2012-2013 Ashbury Hockey season was one to remember. Despite the adversity of injuries and shortened rosters, the Colts still managed to deliver many performances to be proud of. This season marked the end of many of the graduating class' hockey careers, but they will leave the Ashbury Hockey program filled with memories of the challenges they faced together. We thank the coaches for their blood (literally), sweat and tears (maybe literally) for all the work that they did over the course of the season. We would also like to thank the grade 11s and the rest of the team for their unrelenting commitment to the program. The grade 12s are proud to pass along the torch and can leave knowing the team is in good hands.

This year, the Alpine Ski Team had a great season racing out of Camp Fortune. The team was largely composed of new recruits in grades 9 and 10 led by several capable old skiers. The team benefited from a diverse group of skiers ranging from novices to experienced racers who really showed effort and enthusiasm throughout the season. Special thanks to our departing grade 12 captains, Alex Wong and Julian Sassville, whose leadership, experience, and charisma will be sorely missed. We had several excellent results at the NCSSAA and Novice championships this year, highlighted by Sam Scrivens qualifying for OFSAA in the level 1 category in his first year on the team. Thanks to all coaches, parents, and staff who supported the team throughout the year! Next season promises to be even greater than this one as the many young skiers on the team continue to develop their skills and physicality. See you next year!

Injury, illness, and emigration depleted our Nordic team during January; however, a remnant continued training and represented Ashbury at the Ottawa High School completion in February. The Nakkertok tracks were amazingly well groomed and our skiers, Mikela Govig and Mark Tyhurst, raced with determination while a convalescing Chris Scherlowski helped at the races. Rounding out our convalescing skiers were Molly Marland and Michael Solomon. Meanwhile, Emma Richeson no doubt sent best wishes from her new quarters in France. This year's durable snow cover has given us a head start for next year and, as ever, we will be smiling next November when the days get shorter and the nights chill the air.

The Senior Boys' Rugby team had one of the most successful and arguably most exciting seasons in team history. At the outset of the season the team knew they were among the top teams in the province and thus set the goal to have the team peaking for the OFSAA championships in June. The team did come into form in the final weeks of May playing some very exciting rugby as they cruised through the city play-offs and championship. Ashbury came up against a strong opponent-Moira High School from Belleville- losing a close game in the OFSAA semi-final. The boys went on to convincingly claiming the OFSAA Bronze medal with a 15-5 victory over FE Madill. Over the course of the season the boys travelled over 13 000 km touring the Cayman Islands and attending CAIS rugby at Shawnigan Lake BC, playing some of the top high school players in Canada and the Caribbean. Over 50 boys played for the team and the final record was 14 wins and 7 losses. Special thanks to coach Sonny Raina, Dr Herique who helped out with transportation, Mr Beltran who travelled to CAIS and Mr Mackinnon and Mr Nichol who travelled to the Cayman Islands.

After an awesome season, we unfortunately lost to St. Pat's in the East Conference Final. It was an extremely close game, we were winning by 1 point when St. Pat's was awarded a penalty in the last play of the game. Their kicker struck an amazing kick and put it through the uprights to beat Ashbury in the last play of the game. It was obviously not the result that we had hoped for, but the boys and coaches truly felt that they left it all on the pitch. The players should hold their heads high for their many season accomplishments and be proud of the the way they represented themselves and the school while upholding the integrity of the sport by playing with class, respect and true sportsmanship.

Debate and Speech

We are pleased to report the ongoing success of this year's group of debaters and public speakers in their competitive events, from regional to national level and beyond. Ashbury won the prestigious Fulford Debating Cup in 2012 in both the junior and senior divisions, which means that Ashbury is the top debating school amongst all of the major independent schools in Ontario.

This year we had 7 debaters reaching the national and international levels in various competitions, as a result, travelling as far afield as Calgary, Vancouver and Durban, South Africa for their events. Congratulations to William Richardson, John Venner, Alex Cohen, Ron Kamel, Bessie Zhang, Anthony Cui and Anthony Zhong, our national level debaters.

Anthony Zhong and Anthony Cui (first place finish) competed at the Junior Nationals; John Venner and Bessie Zhang (sixth overall) at the Senior Nationals. Alex Cohen earned first and finalist positions in Extemporaneous Speaking and Cross-Ex Debating at the Internationals. William Richardson (grade 11) was selected to be part of Team Canada at the 2013 World Individual Public Speaking and Debating Championship, held at Clifton School in Durban, South Africa, in April. From March 22 to April 6, 2013, William Richardson attended the 2013 World Individual Debating and Public Speaking Championships at Clifton College in Durban, South Africa. He competed in four categories of events: debating, impromptu speaking, persuasive speaking and interpretive reading. He made finals in the first three categories and the grand final for debating. This involved taking part in an impromptu debate at the Durban Soccer World Cup Stadium.

This year at the traditional end of year Debate BBQ we wished out graduating debaters well, Alex Cohen, Salma Eldanasoury, Bessie Zhang and John Venner. John Venner was awarded a place in the Debater's Hall of Fame for competing at the national level three out of four of his senior school career. His name has been added to the Ashbury star debaters who left their mark at events at Oxford University, previous World's, University of Toronto and Queen's tournaments and various national and international debates. Coaches: Marilynne Sinclair and John Richardson

SMART team is one of the most intellectual high school, partly because I wasn't aware that this sort of club existed. Going in was intimidating because of lengthy scientific articles whose every third word was a mystery to me, but being part of this team has been special in quite a few ways. First, just being able to work with scientists on their current research is exciting, because you get to see how what you learn in class is being applied in the actual world and how we've progressed. It's a very hands on sort of approach to internalizing what you can usually only see in a textbook, and also getting a feel for the adult science world of research. Also, even though using Jmol to model our enzyme, human sialyltransferase, seemed pretty advanced to a high school student, there's always the reminder that still this technology is not perfect and we're constantly trying to find a way to better represent the molecule we're studying. Sometimes, you just take a step back from what you're doing in SMART team and realize how amazing it is that the reaction you're studying as well as billions of others are happening in your body right now, and every tiny detail has to be spot on. How nature manages to do that is beyond me. Going to the conference in Boston was definitely worthwhile, getting to share what we'd been studying, meeting others who had a similar interest in biology at the molecular level, and being the only Canadian SMART team! It was a nice way to celebrate a year of work as a team, spent on figuring out what those scientific articles were so excited to communicate to us, and what we now were excited to communicate to others.

During the 2012-2013 school year, the Green Club focused its forces on inspiring, motivating and educating others about making healthy choices for the environment. True to tradition, and back by popular demand was a Sweater Day on February 8th, a day before Canada's National Sweater Day. The club members also worked with kitchen staff to come up with exciting and appetizing ideas for Meatless Mondays. During Earth week (the week of April 22nd) we were fortunate enough to have Michael Brklacich, Carleton University's chair of Geography and Environmental Studies, speak to us at assembly. Throughout that week, TAG groups participated in "TAG in the Dark" in an Ashbury rendition of "Earth Hour" and watched a chapel presentation on the right to a healthy environment. During lunch time, students were able to sign a petition requesting the addition of this to Canadian rights, and watch a movie with an environmental theme such as 'Duma' or 'The Lorax.'

The Ashbury Robotics Team, The Colentoids, designed and built a robot to compete in the 2013 FRC (FIRST Robotics Competition). This year's challenge was to obtain points from throwing Frisbees and climbing a tower. Though only a rookie team, we competed with amazing success in the Toronto West Regional where we challenged other teams, learnt valuable skills, made friends and had an overall amazing experience! We cannot wait for next year!

Between a packed house at meetings every Monday and three successful trips to conferences, 2012-2013 can be described as a banner year for the Ashbury Model United Nations Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Stojanovic and Ms. Wright, the club's 30 plus members were able to showcase their wide variety of skills both inside and outside the school. Eight Ashburians participated in the Secondary Students' United Nations Symposium, over the November long weekend in Montreal. Ashbury's eight delegates represented Denmark on the Women's Committee, the Special Political and Decolonization Committee and the World Health Organization, while four others were on the Arab League, International Olympic Committee, Soviet War in Afghanistan and the Berlin Conference of 1884: Scramble for Africa. Alex Cohen was awarded the Lester B. Pearson Award for Peacemaking for his contributions to the Berlin Conference. In the winter term, the club partook in a re-enactment of the real UN's debate on the 2012 resolution to admit Palestine as a non-member observer state. March saw 11 delegates represent Moldova at the National High School Model UN in New York City, including a memorable closing ceremonies in the General Assembly of the UN Headquarters. Other activities in New York included a Broadway show, the Empire State Building and a Brooklyn Nets game. In the spring term, club members began preparing for a re-enactment of the UN's reaction 1979 Iranian Hostage Crisis, inspired by the movie Argo. Our youngest delegates took on leading roles and kept everyone alert with their logic and wit. We are pleased to have experienced so much success this year.

Model UN Round Square

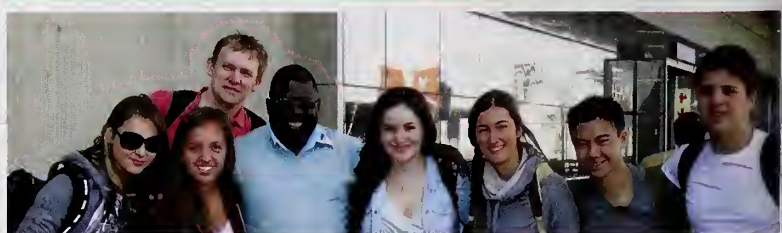

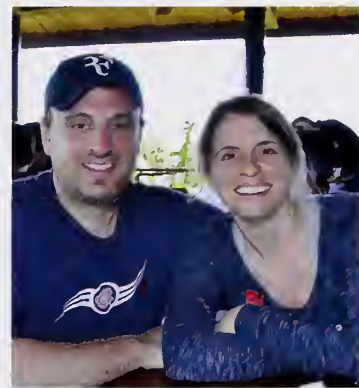

Ashbury College is a member of Round Square, an international association of schools committed to promoting and practicing the ideals of internationalism, democracy, education, adventure, leadership and service. Member schools have the opportunity to arrange local and international student and teacher exchanges on a regular basis between their schools. Students also have the opportunity to participate in local and international community service projects and conferences.

In October, six Ashbury students travelled to Penryn College in South Africa to attend the 2012 Round Square International Conference. The conference theme was No Existence Without Co-Existence. Students participated in workshops, service trips, attended lectures and met many new friends from around the world; all this amidst the backdrop of the beautiful African landscapes. It was truly a memorable experience! details

In May 2013, students also attended the Round Square Americas conference at the beautiful campus of Rothesay-Netherwood School in New Brunswick. The conference theme was Propelling Leadership Across Youth (PLAY). With an emphasis on adventure and environmental stewardship, students went camping, zip lining, kayaking, climbed high ropes and an even higher climbing wall. They learned about the importance of sourcing food from local farms in order to reduce their carbon footprints.

Two students from Ashbury will be travelling to South Africa and Australia in the summer of 2013 to take part in exchanges. Students from those schools will be visiting Ashbury in the fall term. Truly, Round Square helps students grow as students, leaders and human beings!

Ms. Patty Carleton

Patty Carleton has taught mathematics for 24 years, from Grade 9 to IB. She was a Housemaster in the girls residence for 6 years and looked after recreational tennis, volleyball and knitting. Recently, Patty played a key role assisting Randy Coles in the production of the school musicals and she coordinated the registration of our 450 runners in the Tamarack Race Weekend. This year, our runners raised a record $20,000 for the Ottawa Hospital and DIFD. Patty is one of those magical math teachers who helped many Ashbury students develop confidence and achieve success in mathematics. One student asked Patty what she does in her free time and she responded, "I have no free time, I give extra help". Caring for students and colleagues is a "calling" for Patty. Before school, at lunch time and after school Patty always made time for her students and communicated regularly with parents. Patty's teaching, extra help sessions, kind heart and caring for others will be missed.

Retirements

Ms. Laura McNairn

Laura McNairn started teaching at age 22 and has taught French at Ashbury for the past 18 years, most recently as Head of the International Languages Department. Laura is the champion of core French from Grades 9 to 12 and has enjoyed excellent IB results. She has high standards and worked well with her department developing curriculum. Laura teaches from the heart and makes French fun with her grammar songs, tooting her trumpet and developing meaningful relationships so students would continue with their French studies. Laura enjoys the outdoors and coordinated the fitness program and led student trips to France, Italy and Tanzania. The citation on her gift from her favourite book, Le Petit Prince, reads, "On ne voit bien qu'avec le cur; l'essentiel est invisible pour les yeux." (One only sees well with the heart; the essential is invisible to the eye.)

T E A M

This year the yearbook team decided to explore what makes the Ashbury Community what it is. Between the large range of co-curriculars, even and volunteer opportunities, not to mention all the great activities that go on within the classrooms, it is safe to say each year is unique. We have captured as many of these events as possible within the pages of this yearbook from International Day to Spring Time Funtime to Monte Carlo. While the years may vary, the character of the school is consistent as reflected on the cover of the yearbook. The values of passion, commitment, trust and confidence are perfect examples of virtues which the Ashbury Community holds in high esteem and are crucial to a positive atmosphere. On that note, we would like to thank Olivia Kotarba, Eva Bruketa, Ignatius Lau, Sabrina Alsaffar, Andrew May, Lauren Benson-Armer, Marina Bossio, Kathleen Clements, Nicholas Garel-Jones, Iori Komori, Gigi Nguyen, Michelle Rugamba, Victoria Spiteri, Katia Tawagi, Alexandra Walters, Paulina Ramphos, Lan-Linh Truong, Mr. Reid, and Mrs. Rust for their hardwork and dedication throughout the year; photographing events and editing pages. Hopefully you will have as much fun reflecting on the memories the yearbook contains as we did making it.

First Week of School

Welcome back to the Junior School! The Grade 8s welcomed new students with a fun-filled Chill Day where everyone had the chance to socialise and get to know people before the first day of school. During the first week, we had the first house competition of the year - the annual Scavenger Hunt. We explored all areas of the school including the Green Roof and learned a lot about Ashbury's history. The winning house was the Dragons. Later on in the week we enjoyed a wonderful afternoon outside with hamburgers, hot dogs, and lemonade. Overall, a great start to the year!

Camp Otterdale

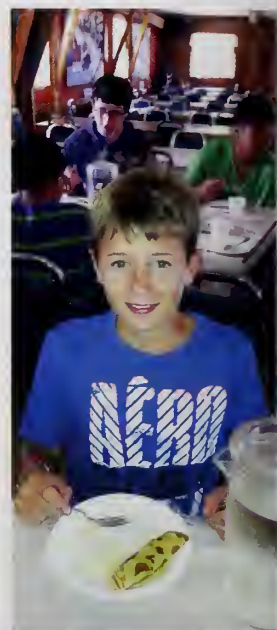

Camp Otterdale gave the grade 7's a great start to the year. Despite the early morning frost, students participated in the polar bear dip and also enjoyed activities like orienteering, ice breaker activities, paper bag dramatics and sardines. Students laughed at the campfire skits and chatted into the night about the ghost stories. The memories made at camp will last their Ashbury careers.

Québec City

Le voyage dans la Belle Province a encore une fois été un succès, et nos élèves de 8^e année l'ont adoré. Parmi les activités habituelles, le travail du cuivre et la dégustation de chocolats faits maison étaient des activités nouvelles et appréciées par tous. Nos élèves sont revenus avec de bons souvenirs et amis. L'année a vraiment bien commencé !

Running For Our Lives!

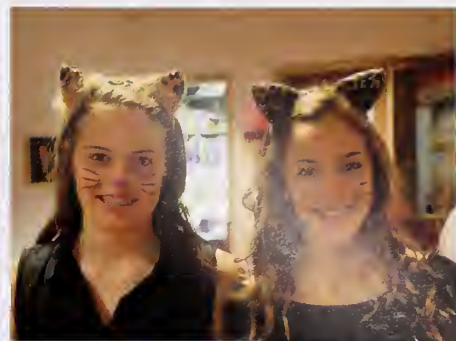

Fall means a lot of running in the Junior School. It could be the biweekly Honour Board Run where each student tries to outdo themselves or it could be a fun run like the OISAA Pumpkin Run where the 4s, 5s, and 6s run against other independent schools in the area. It could also be an opportunity to raise money for charities in our city like the United Way Run. We are definitely in top shape when the cold weather begins.

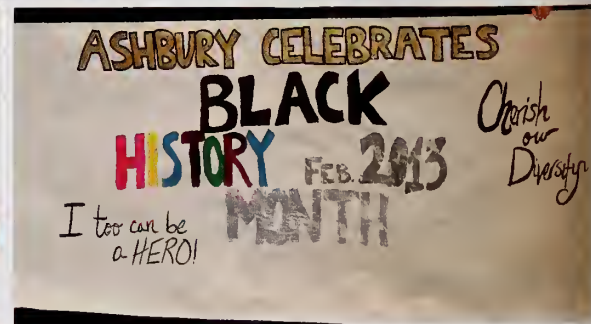

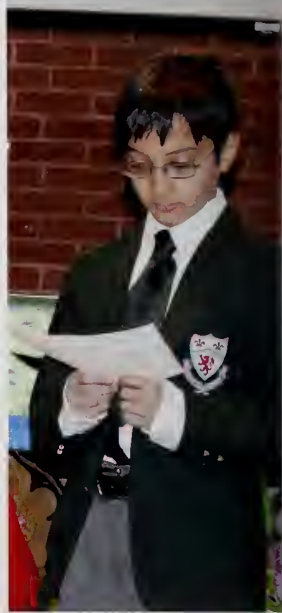

Halloween

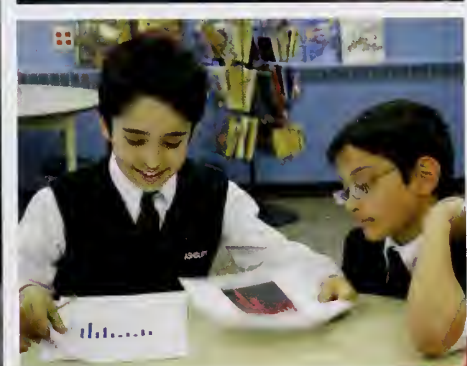

Leadership

There is a leadership role for everyone in the Junior School. Students can help out at the Open House, serve as a House Captain, get involved in special activities such as Black History month or Bully Awareness week, speak at Assembly, or help out a student in grade four. At Ashbury, students are always encouraged to step up and take part!

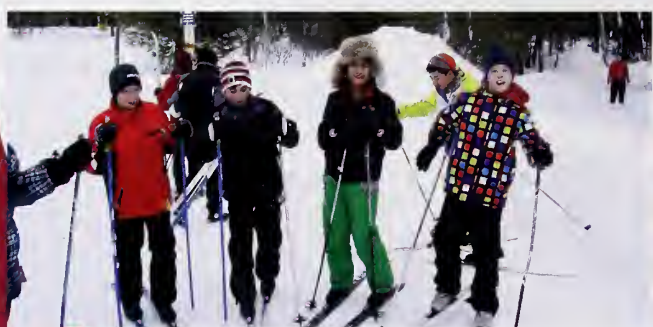

House Colours

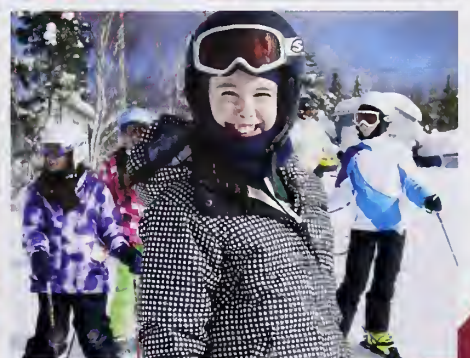

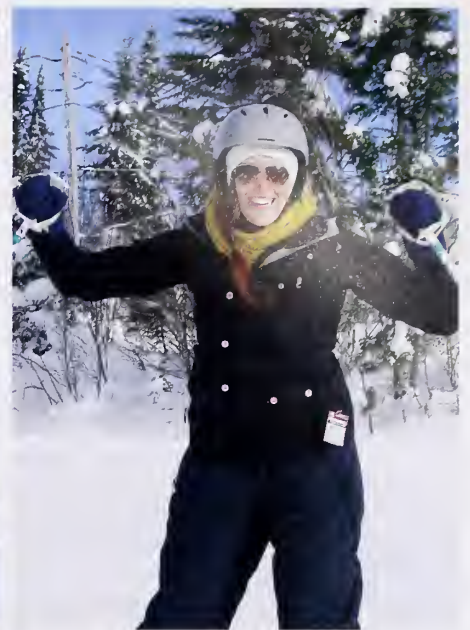

This year, it was really anyone's game for the House Competition, but in the end, the Hobbits walked away with the Pitfield Shield. Way to go Hobbits!!

Le mercredi 9 janvier, les élèves de la 7e année ont quitté Ashbury pour se rendre à la ville de Montréal. Nous avons visité le Château Ramezay et le musée Pointe-à-Callière. En soirée, l'autobus nous a déposés saint et sauf au Manoir des Laurentides. Nous avons fait du ski alpin, du ski de fond, de la raquette, du patin et du tube. Nous avons étudié des légendes Québécoises tout en parlant en français. Ayant remplie nos ventres de poutine et nos cerveaux d'intelligence, nous sommes retournés à Ottawa le samedi soir.

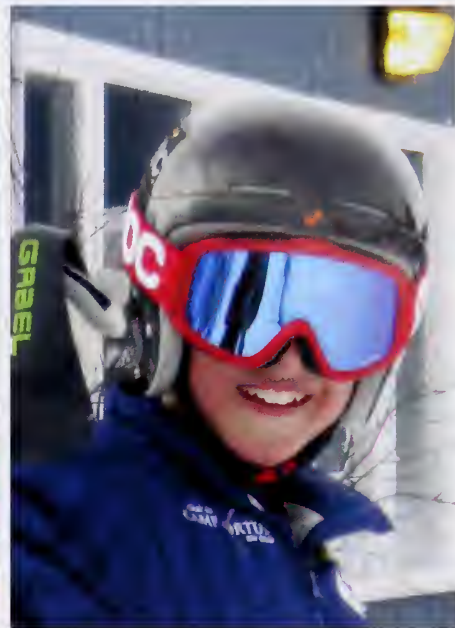

Winter Sports

During the chilly months of winter we kept ourselves active with many sports inside and out. During Games we played basketball, hockey, and badminton. We also had our Winter Activity Fridays where students went downhill skiing or participated in wintery adventures with Mr. King and Ms. Greig. The annual Winter Olympics took place in March with the Houses competing in badminton, basketball, hockey, ping pong, and volleyball.

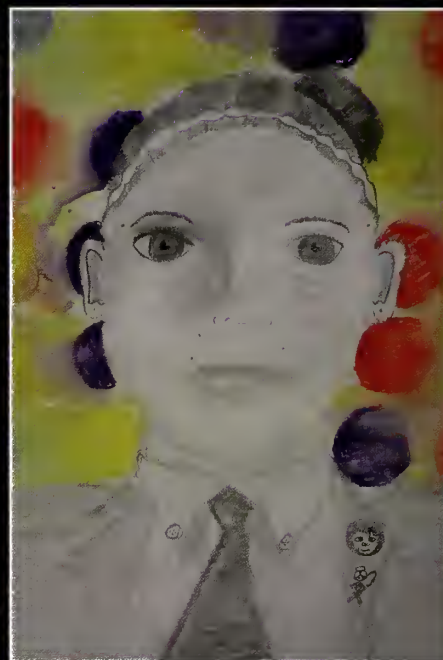

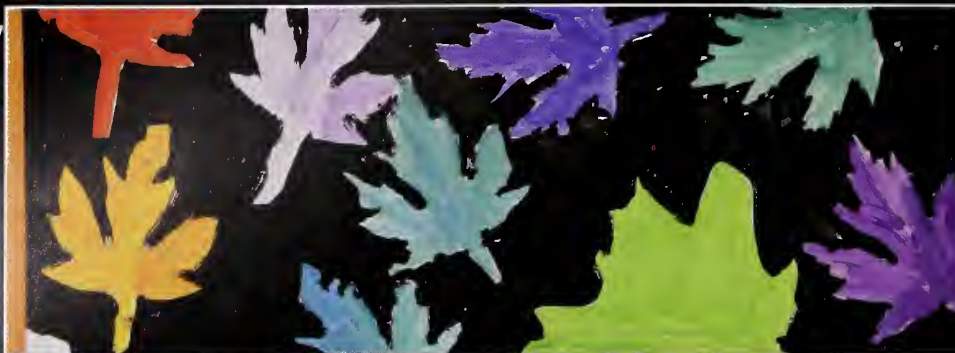

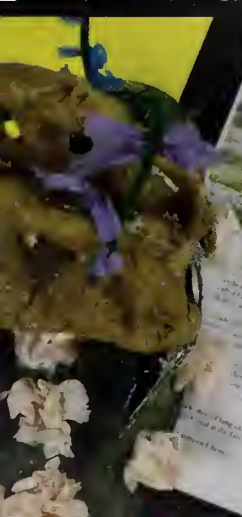

Good Canadian Winters

The 2012-2013 winter season was an extremely snowy one! We had lots of the fluffy white stuff to entertain us during breaks and afterschool. Constant vigilance was needed to prevent the inevitable snow balls but there was a lot of creativity in the field as well. Unfortunately, this inordinate amount of snow caused us to miss a couple of ski days. On one of these occasions this resulted in an impromptu house competition outdoors that even got quite a few teachers out romping in the storm. Just before March Break, we had a small reprieve from the cold and students were out playing in t-shirts in the snow.

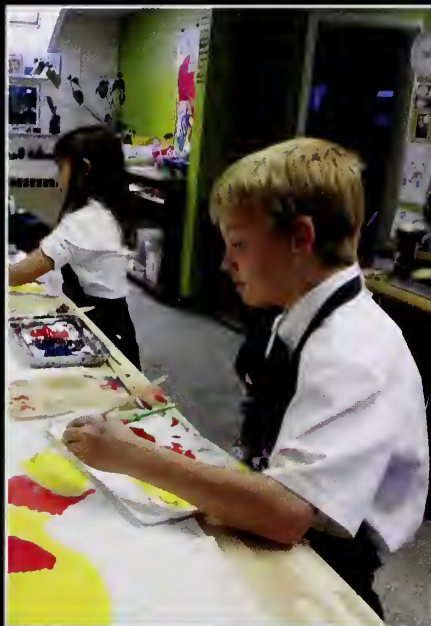

Art and Lit

When I was young,
I stuck out my tongue.
I hated being bossed around,
It was no dang fun!
So then I said,
"You're not the boss of me,"
But of course they did not agree.

When I was young,
I didn't believe anyone.
They said my mom cared about me,
Fair and equally.
But why?
Why did she spend all her time saying, "Hi,"
To this little babe girl.
She was my sister,
Pretty as a pearl.
Good at everything since the dawn of time.
So I decided to just say fine.

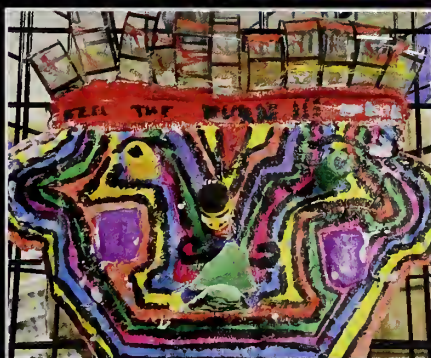

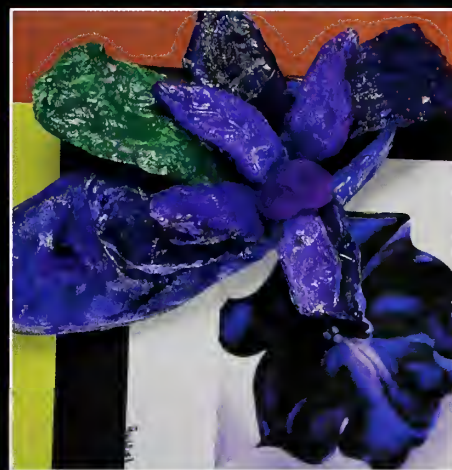

~ Haigann Fevrier-President, Grade 6

My Dog Walks

My dog walks
Like there is not a care in the world
Always happy and free
His little feet trot to a steady, unheard drum
that only he hears
He has no final destination
he never looks back or straight ahead
he looks around him, left and right
And takes in the wonders of the world

- Katie Gay, Grade 7

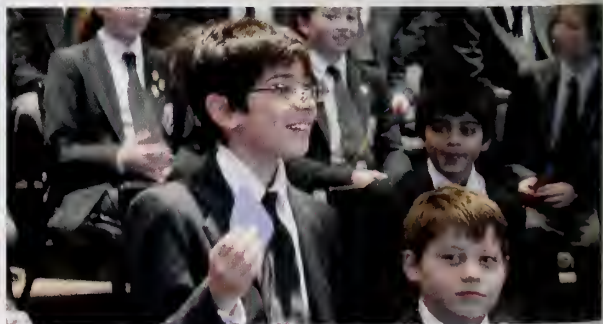

Spirit Week

Spirit Week 2013 was as usual introduced in style by our creative and talented House Captains during Chapel. We started off the week with a House Colour Day featuring an amazing 4-way tug of war challenge that incited some fierce competition between the Houses. Wednesday was a day to dress up as our favourite Literary Character. Thursday we all went back to our favourite era for Blast from the Past Day. The week finished up with a very celebratory Holiday Day. Overall, a fun way to rid ourselves of the February blues!

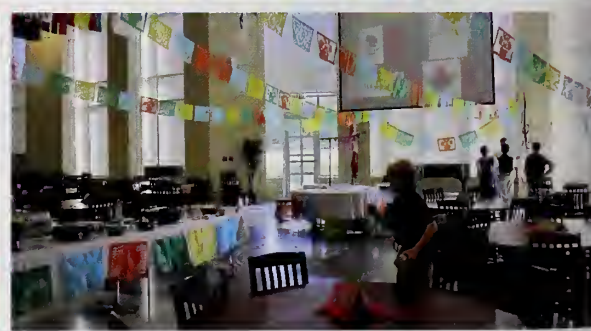

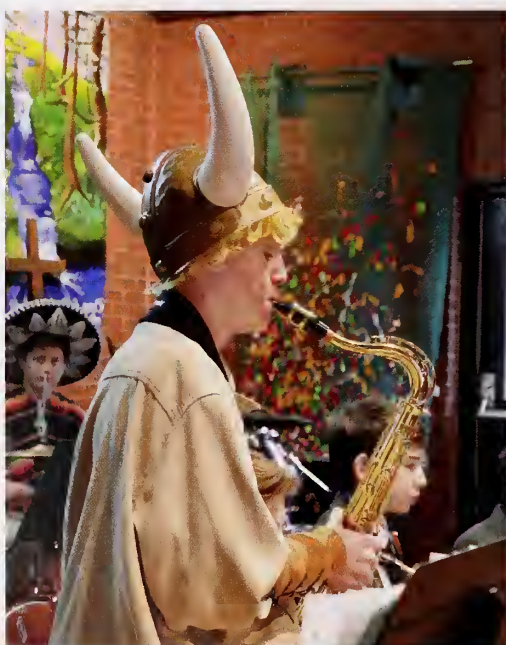

Last May was the first time that students chose and planted vegetables, fruit and herbs for the green roof. By July, there was enough food to make a significant donation to the soup kitchen on Laurier Avenue. In the Fall, students helped with preparing the roof for the winter by picking (and eating!) some of the last vegetables. They dried oregano throughout the winter. In December they went to the Bytowne Cinema to watch Chasing Ice, a documentary on glaciers, and a week later a young speaker from the Sierra Club came to speak to them about climate change. Throughout the winter months, they explored Third World Farmer, a computer simulation game, organized Sweater Day for the Junior School, discussed environmental issues and made posters about glaciers. In the spring, some students attended the Eco Summit at Elmwood School, participated in the World Issues Water assembly and helped organize and run the yard clean-ups, Walk to School house competition, litterless lunch competition and the renowned Awesome Auction. Before exams, students planted more herbs, vegetables and fruit on the green roof and before leaving on holiday were able to eat some of the fruits of their labour!

International Understanding

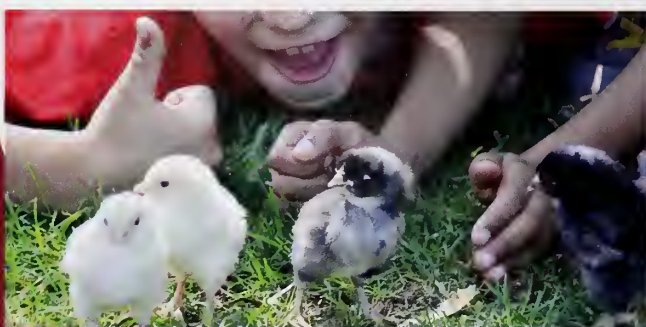

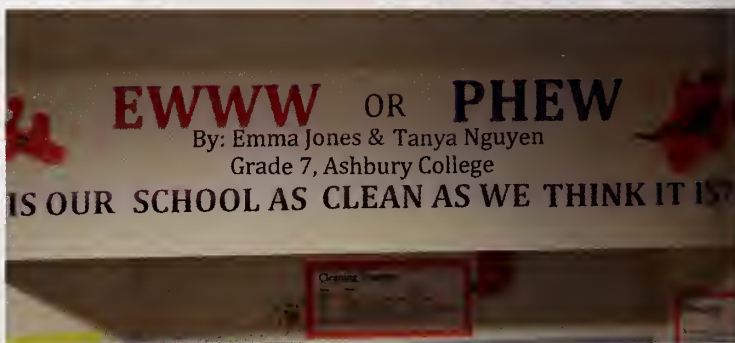

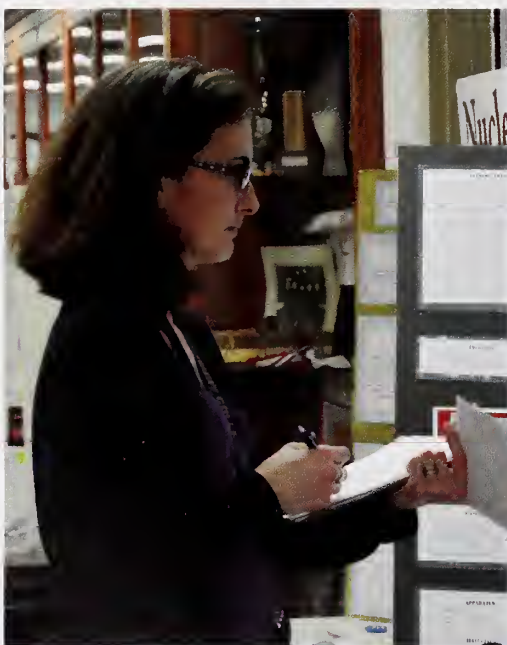

As one of Ashbury's core values, International Understanding is something that we strive to include in our activities in the Junior School. As we learned on International Day, we are extremely lucky to be able to have such a diverse culture, which allows us to learn about each other's holidays, cuisine, and traditions throughout the school year. In May, we hosted 15 students from Discovery School in Cuernavaca, Mexico. These grade five students joined us in our classes, toured the National Capital Region, and had their first snowball fight. We had a wonderful fiesta with the Gr. 6 families and also celebrated Children's Day with an exciting pinata.

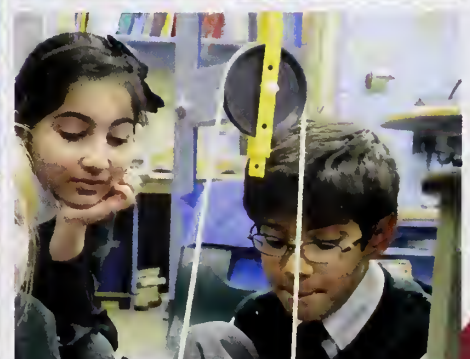

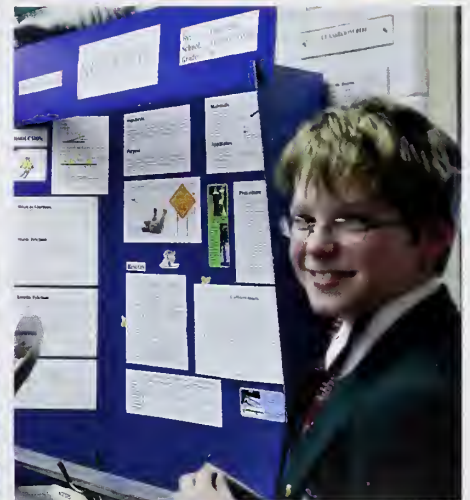

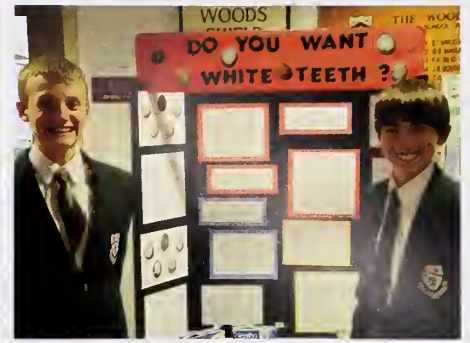

Science and Technology

Science and Technology are both real passions here in the Junior School. The grade 4 class received a great lesson in growth and development as they watched eggs hatch into baby chicks. The grade sevens worked very hard on their projects for the Science Symposium, wowing us all with their impressive talents. The grade eights made concrete boats, the Science Club tested a hovercraft, and in the POD we hosted another successful Engineering Expo, which included Mr. Valentine's amazing science show!

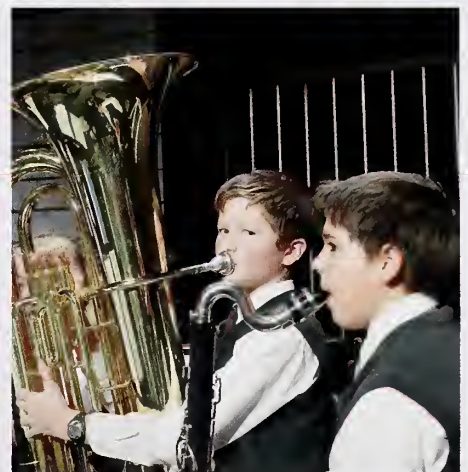

Musical Genius

As usual, the Junior School students impressed us at every turn with their incredible musical talent. Our first glimpse at their wonderful abilities was at the December Music Concert. It was so amazing to see the beginners competently play their very first pieces of music. Throughout the year we were treated to individual performances during House Music as well as fantastic shows by the Glee Club. The year wrapped up with the MAD Night in May and a final Concert Band performance at Junior School Closing.

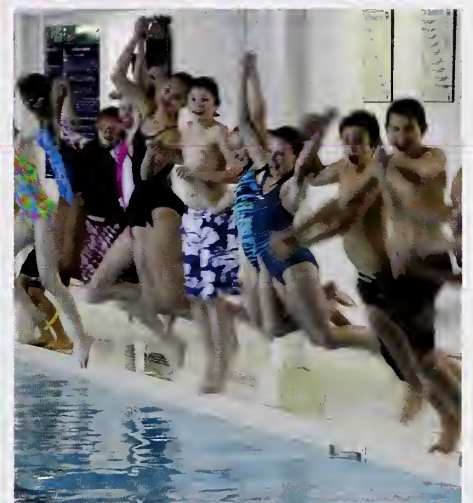

Spring Sports

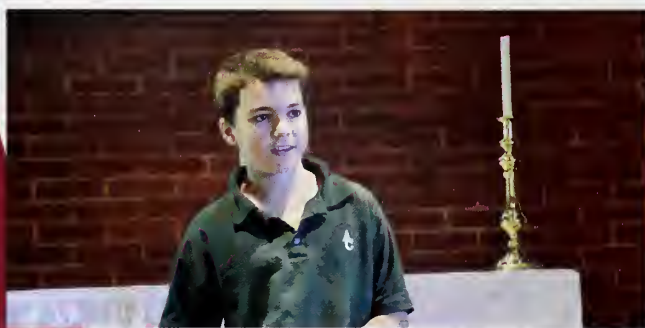

The spring season kept us very busy with different athletic activities. The 4/5/6 students were busy in Games preparing for the annual Swim Meet and were also treated to climbing sessions with Jungle Sports. The grades 7/8 students also participated in the climbing fun in addition to a thrilling rugby season and some fun biking adventures. All grades also practiced for the various track and field events in which they competed at the end of the year.

Making Our Voices Heard

Students took to the stage regularly throughout the year. Grade six students brought The Hobbit to life with puppets. Grade eights spoke as the Fathers of Confederation and acted out scenes from Shakespeare. Grade seven and eight students presented poems. All grades wrote and delivered a speech for public speaking. Drama students spoke out in their classes each day - unless they were studying mime!

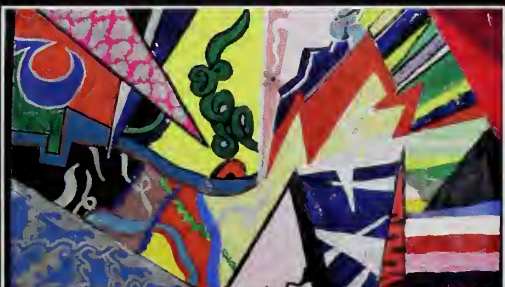

There's no better way to reconnect with nature than by visiting ISES. Hiking, canoeing, dog-sledding, and building a campfire are favourite activities at the retreat in Ladysmith, Quebec. This year, we watched three bear cubs grow under the care of the Cushing family. Some visiting students learned to identify different animal tracks in the snow. The husky dogs always greeted us with howls of joy and wagging tails. We are lucky to be able to take advantage of such a wonderful place.

With the taste sweeter than the perfectly golden honey;

Join The Club

There were no shortage of ways for Junior School students to get involved after school, at OPP, and during breaks. Among the offerings this year were: Art Club, Badminton, Basketball, Chess Club, Dance Club, Debating Club, Environmental Club, French Club, Glee Club, Improv Club, Kids' Lit Quiz, Laugh While You Craft, Rugby, and Science Club. Wow!

Fun with Friends

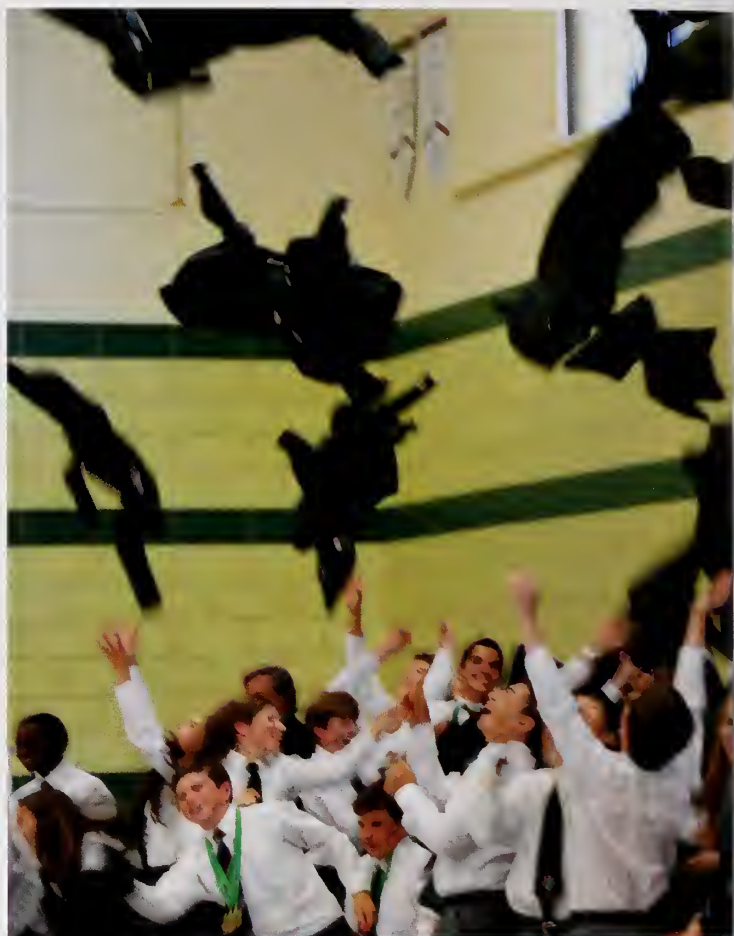

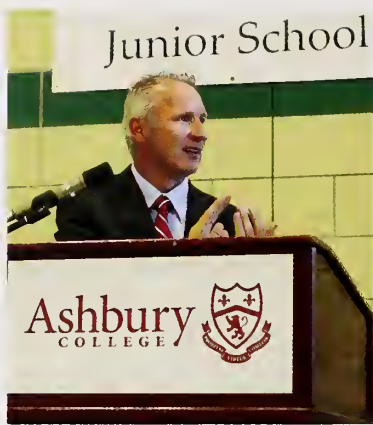

Track and Field Day

Just like last year, our Monday afternoon of qualifying heats was a beautiful, sunny day, but on the day of Track and Field, it poured with rain. Spirits could not be dampened, however, and Junior School students competed and cheered each other on despite the weather. Teachers kept score and timed from under umbrellas, and marveled at the students' enthusiasm. Of course, since Track and Field day is the last day to earn House points, this was a very important day!
